Notes:

Non-contact amalgam (scrap) is excess mix leftover at the end of a dental procedure. Many recyclers will pay for this clean scrap.

Contact amalgam is amalgam that has been in contact with the patient. Examples are extracted teeth with amalgam restorations or amalgam captured by chairside traps, filters or screens.

Chairside traps capture amalgam waste during amalgam placement or removal procedures. (Traps for dental units dedicated strictly to hygiene may be placed in with regular garbage)

Vacuum pump filters or traps contain amalgam sludge and water. Some recyclers will accept whole filters, others will require special handling of this material.

Amalgam sludge is the mixture of liquid and solid material cleaned from a vacuum pump filter and other amalgam captured devices.

Empty amalgam capsules are the containers leftover from the precapsulated dental amalgam.
